Civil Side.

Rule of Practice No. 57, dated 9th March 1885.

It is observed that several Judges, when exercising the discretion vested in them by the provisions of Section 220, Code of Civil Procedure, in not decreeing costs to follow the event, content themselves by saying, "under the circumstances of the case each party is to bear his own costs." The law requires that when a Judge does not decree costs to follow the event, he should record his specific reasons for so decreeing. The specific circumstances of the case which have induced the Judge so to decree should always be recorded, to enable the Appellate Court to decide whether the discretion has been properly exercised.

By Order of the Court,

S. HAMAJEE ROW,
Registrar.

TALUK SAVINGS BANK ACCOUNTS, NUMBERING AND TRANSFERRING FROM ONE TREASURY TO ANOTHER.

Circular No. 1627, dated 21st March 1885.

The practice in respect to the numbering of Savings Bank depositors' accounts in the District and Taluk Treasuries not being uniform, the Comptroller has the honor to lay down the following rules on this point and for the transfer of accounts from one Treasury to another :—

Numbering.

2. The District and Taluk Treasuries should have each a separate series of numbers and the same Taluk numbers should be preserved in the ledger kept at the District Treasury. No general series for the whole District is necessary, nor is it desirable, and in the two Treasuries of Bangalore and Shimoga where a general series has been introduced, it should be brought to a termination on the 31st March 1885.

3. From 1st April 1885 and each succeeding year the deposits received in the Savings Bank should be numbered with a fresh annual series beginning with No. 1 in every Treasury, District or Taluk.

Transfers.

4. When a depositor's account is transferred from one District Treasury to another, or from one Taluk Treasury to another, it should be treated as a new account in the receiving treasury and should have a new number assigned to it in the Savings Bank's ledger and pass book, the former number being struck out.

5. No Savings Bank account will be transferred from one Taluk to another of the same District except under the order of the District Treasury Officer. The depositor must deliver up his Pass Book to the Amildar of the Taluk (A) in which the deposit stands, with an application stating to what Taluk (B) he wishes it to be transferred. The Amildar (A) will send the application and the pass book to the Treasury Officer of his District who will close the account by entering in the pass book
